LETTER

From Officer Who Knew
Grant Well, Denies
Taft's Story

JUST MADE PUBLIC

New York, June 7.—In connection with Secretary Taft's Memorial day address at the tomb of Grant, which started a wave of discussion all over the country as to whether the general was an intemperate drinker and as to the truth of the secretary's assertion that Grant resigned from the army because he had to, is released a personal letter written to Wm. Conant Church, editor of the Army and Navy Journal ten years ago, by an officer who was fully conversant with General Grant's habits and aware of the exact reason he retired from the army. The letter was printed Saturday in the Army and Navy Journal.

The writer of the letter met Grant first in 1882 when the future commander in chief was a first lieutenant and brevet captain in the Fourth Artillery ordered from New York harbor to the Pacific coast. He had ample opportunity to observe the "thin, quiet, reticent man," "his kindly and generous feeling for those about him" and "his close and strict attention to his duties." Captain Grant's energy and common sense were mighty serviceable to the government in transferring the command across the Isthmus. Later at Vancouver Mr. Church's correspondent was acquainted with Grant's life.

"Of course," the letter says, "it was well known that Grant drank now and then, but he was not, as has often been charged, by any means a drunkard. He would perhaps go on two or three sprees a year, but was always open to reason and when spoken to on the subject would own up and promise to stop drinking, which he did."

"At this time expeditions for the survey of the Northern Pacific railroad were being organized and fitted out in both the east and the west. One of the most important, for the survey of the passes through the Cascade range of mountains, as far north as the 49th parallel, was fitted out at Vancouver barracks and commanded by Brevet Captain George B. McClellan."

lan of the engineers. You may remember in the early part of 1882 how severely General McClellan criticized certain actions of General Grant as laid before him by General Hallock and how unjustly and harshly General Grant then and always considered he had been treated in the matter and how many people there were who wondered at General McClellan's course.

"I for one, never doubted the reason, for when the expedition above mentioned was being fitted out, Grant got on one of his little sprees which annoyed and offended McClellan exceedingly and, in my opinion, he never forgave Grant for it, notwithstanding this the transportation was soon in readiness and the expedition left Vancouver."

"It was in the year 1854 that Grant resigned from the army. The resignation was brought about in this way: His commanding officer was the major of the regiment, Brevet Col. R. C. Buchanan, a very good officer, but a martinet and 'set on his way.' It seems that one day while his company was being paid off General Grant was at the pay table slightly under the influence of liquor. This coming to the knowledge of Col. Buchanan he gave Grant the option of resigning or having charges preferred against him. Grant resigned at once."

Exception is taken to Secretary Taft's statement that General Grant resigned, because he had to, because, in Mr. Church's opinion, it by no means follows that, if Grant's brother officers had been called to sit in judgment on him, they would have accepted Col. Buchanan's view of his offense, which is regarded as serious only in proportion as it disqualifies a man for holding a position of command, which does not appear to have been the case with Grant.

LABOR MEN ARE PLANNING TO GET IN FALL CAMPAIGN

Cleveland, June 7.—The executive board of the Ohio Federation of Labor met at the rooms of the Ohio Trades and Labor Council yesterday to make plans for the political campaign next fall. In line with the recent decision to organize a labor party, the committee decided to canvass the local political situation and recommend certain men for office. It is the intention of the federation to use the influence of the labor vote against candidates who have disregarded the requests of the labor organizations and others who they consider as opposed to the cause of the workers.

The resignation of William Cope, first vice president of the organization, was received and the announcement made that Mr. Cope had accepted a position as factory inspector, and under the by-laws no longer could serve on the board.

The report of J. A. Robinson, of Canton, the legislative agent was received, showing that fourteen bills have been passed by the Ohio legislature last session at the instigation of the labor unions.

Among these were the Reynolds child labor bill, the employers' liability bill, containing a new principle of comparative negligence; the Reynolds bill providing for an assistant chief inspector of workshops and factories, whose duties it will be to look after the school buildings in the state, and five mining bills for the protection of miners.

The report of the committee will be compiled by Harry D. Thomas, secretary-treasurer of the organization, and made public later.

RAILROAD NEWS

The Wheeling and Lake Erie inaugurated a new rule in their passenger department of this state yesterday. Hereafter when cash is presented instead of tickets on trains, the conductors are instructed to collect ten cents extra fare. This rule does not apply in cases where the ticket office has not been open thirty minutes prior to the departure of the train.

Evidently Pittsburghers do not like Meyers lake as a resort, for the patronage of the Wheeling and Lake Erie special from that place yesterday was light. For several weeks the Wheeling and Lake Erie has run an excursion every Sunday from Pittsburgh and for a time the patronage was excellent. In nine heavy coaches, there were but 75 passengers. On the return trip all but two of the coaches were taken off, and the room was ample for all the passengers. The train departed from Canton at 7 o'clock, central time. It was intimated yesterday that the company would discontinue the train.

On June 14, the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad will run an excursion train to Zoar. This will afford an opportunity to many Cantonians to visit that quaint old village and its surroundings, which many of the people of this community know little or nothing about.

ERIE SHOPS AT KENT ON FULL TIME

And 50 Men Added to Force—Free Mail Delivery Started.

Kent, O., June 7.—Much good feeling was in evidence today on the receipt of orders placing the employees of the Erie railroad shops at this place on ten hours a day, also adding 50 new men to the force. Since early winter the Erie shops have been running on short time and light force.

The Seneca Chain works are working about half a force, as the contracts which were held by the company are all completed and new ones are coming slow.

The first week's experience with free mail delivery in Kent is most satisfactory and the residents are congratulating Postmaster W. W. Reed on his successful efforts in securing the same, as well as the executive system.

MAYOR WANTS A SWIMMING HOLE FOR CANTON BOYS

Mayor Turnbull never forgets that he was a boy once and that it was not many years ago, Saturday evening almost fifty urchins, ranging in ages from eight to fifteen years, were huddled into the court room, having been invited there by Detectives Ryan and Brisben and Lieutenant Wielandt because they went in bathing in the Nimishillen creek between South Market and Fairfield streets. These boys have a favorite swimming hole there, which they term the "Sucker," but their bathing place is in plain view of some of the residences along Barth street. Complaint was made about the matter and the youngsters were brought in.

With remembrances of many plunges that he had taken into the creek when he was a boy his honor informed the boys that more care should be taken. He did not object to small boys swimming at this place, but said that they should be hidden from the gaze of the public. He promised them that he would pay a visit to the place Monday and if it can be done he will have the place enclosed by a board fence in order to make a swimming pool. These boys left the city hall with cheers.

A few minutes later a committee consisting of four smaller boys called on his honor and told him they were too small to go into the big swimming hole and they asked the mayor to provide them a place also. He promised to meet the smaller boys and accommodations may be made for them too.

WHEAT HARVEST

In Ohio, It is Estimated, Will Amount to 33,000,000 Bushels.

Columbus, June 6.—A wheat crop of about 33,000,000 bushels will be harvested in Ohio next month. The state board of agriculture in its June crop report, given out yesterday, estimates the wheat prospects at 94 per cent. The report says:

This is a most excellent showing and assures a heavy average yield per acre, although, as stated in previous reports, the total area seeded is below an average, which fact must be taken into consideration in anticipating the total yield of the harvest. The prospect over the state is quite uniform, not a county in the state reporting less than 80 per cent, while last year at this time there was a wide variance in percentage estimates, ranging from 15 per cent to 95 per cent. May 1, 1907, the average wheat prospect for the state as a whole was estimated at 77 per cent, while for that harvest there was produced an estimated average of 15.4 bushels per acre. By comparison with the present report it is shown that wheat prospects in Ohio are most encouraging.

Runaway Causes Much Excitement.

An exciting runaway, during which a number of pedestrians had narrow escapes, happened in Cassilis street Sunday evening about 6 o'clock, when a team belonging to a man named Miller, went dashing along at breakneck speed, carrying the fore part of the running gears with them. The king-bolt broke, leaving the driver and the occupants of the carriage in Cassilis street, while the team ran down High street to South where they turned west. After colliding with a mail box and breaking it to pieces the horses were halted. It is said that the driver was slightly hurt.
